February 2017

Program Updates & Events

Thank you to all parents and families that came out to support the student organized play last month! I think the students gained knowledge of just how challenging it can be to put something together, and also how exciting it can be to show off your hard work!

We are hoping to have more site events where families are invited to join in the fun! This month we are planning a Family Festival, where families are invited for an evening to come share a family or cultural tradition with our site!

We are hoping that students will have an opportunity to learn about the various cultures and traditions that are present within their community! More specific information about the event to come.

Upcoming Non-School Days!

We only have a handful of non-school days left! Register at least 2 weeks ahead of time to guarantee space!

Accreditation Update

Thank you to everyone that completed a survey for our accreditation process! We have taken the results from our surveys and observations and put together an action plan with tasks to help us get prepared for our final validation observation!

Thank you again for your help and support and a big thank you to our amazing stakeholder team!
